Resume

In simple terms, this Lighthouse report evaluates various aspects of your website's performance. Here are the scores for each category: 1.

Performance: 41/100. This means that your site needs some optimization to improve its speed and user experience. 2. Accessibility: 82/100. Your website is generally accessible, but there are still areas where it can be made more friendly for people with disabilities. 3. SEO (Search Engine Optimization): 63/100. This score indicates that your site has some room for improvement in terms of being found and ranked well by search engines like Google. 4. Best Practices: 100/100. Your website follows best practices in web development, which is great! In summary, while your website adheres to the latest web development standards, it could benefit from some improvements in performance and accessibility, as well as SEO optimization to help search engines easily find and understand its content.
