Resume

The Lighthouse audit of your website shows the following scores: 1. Performance: Excellent (score 10 out of 10). This means that your website loads quickly and performs well, providing a smooth user experience. 2. Accessibility: Good (score 82 out of 100). Your website is generally easy to use for people with various abilities. However, there are some areas that could be improved to make it even more accessible. 3. SEO (Search Engine Optimization): Fair (score 50 out of 100). This score indicates that your website's content is not fully optimized for search engines. Improving SEO can help attract more visitors and improve the visibility of your site on search engines like Google. 4. Best practices: Good (score 82 out of 100). Your website follows many good web development best practices, but there are some areas where improvements could be made to ensure it adheres to the latest industry standards. In simple terms, your website is fast and performs well, but it could benefit from some enhancements in accessibility, SEO, and following best practices for web development. I recommend addressing these areas to ensure that your site remains user-friendly, search engine friendly, and up-to-date with industry standards.
